Oneghus
Confrontation

Mistress Oppo found Dr. Yokel.

Oneghus found Oasis.

The spy Colonel Wok found Hagi and both descended upon Oneghus's new palace.

The prophet waited to strangle Oneghus like any father whose daughter had fallen pregnant to The Monster of Hesse. And Oneghus did not help by making light of it, "One becomes pregnant by sleeping in a cabbage patch," and there might have been some truth in that.

The prophet found Joshua and ordered him to burn Hesse.

7 months later in the rebuilt Palace of Astrod.

SOUND

"I'll tell you truthfully, I have no control when I visit her," Oneghus told Oasis.

hallway.

"It's true. Oh God help me," Oneghus groaned.

Oasis jumped in surprise.

"I must go to her, help me Oasis."

"Go to her after telling you I am pregnant," and she kicked Oneghus somewhere so he fell.

"That's enough Oasis," Wong advised as he and the other heroes entered for privacy did not exist.

"Might do him an injury," Cullen picking Oneghus up and Oasis chinned him.

"He wont be any good to you dead," Icon catching her descending fist.

"And he wont be any good to that bitch either," she screamed at Icon.

Oasis managed a couple of slaps and then the prophet knocked Oneghus's knees from under him with that staff; these days a man and woman had a tiff it seems the whole extended family needed in on the act and not a whisper helped Oneghus as they thought he got what he asked for?

"Hey just hold on a moment," Wong complained as Cullen encircled the prophet with bear arms and Icon snatched the staff away.

"Oppo gave him XY6ABIL," Icon defended his Boss knowing what Yokel had done to him.

"Just to mention her name is to summon me to her," Oneghus moaned.

"Yes Oppo has implanted chips into his subconscious," Wong added.

"God I cannot resist," Oneghus clutching his temples as he staggered out of the room.

"You are all men in defence of manhood's cheating ways, daddy take me home," Oasis wailed.

"I cannot," the prophet trying to worm out of Cullen's hold.

"It is true Oasis, we have been following Oneghus and know he is not OUR Oneghus of old but a Yokel drugged machine," Wong.

"Come let's rescue Oneghus from Oppo and extract an antidote from Yokel," Icon pulling Oasis after him as he exited after Oneghus.

"Daddy," Oasis screamed.

"Coming," daddy answered as he was carried out by Cullen.

As Oneghus hurried ahead of his pursuers he met Joshua who was intent on taking him back to the Innocent camp.

"Just look at their faces and then tell me if it isn't grim for you?" Joshua asked.

Oneghus looked at the innocent warriors all wanting to avenge Oasis. There just were no secrets on this planet. Even the stones at his feet could be cameras?

“Well what are you waiting for, kill him,” The prophet demanded arriving.

“Going a bit too far isn’t we?” Wong asked his laser already in his hand.

“Harm him and I will never speak to you again daddy, Joshua,” Oasis screamed at the two men.

“But I heard you telling The Monster you were finished with him?” The prophet came from a failed marriage you see.

And Oneghus slipped away intent on visiting Oppo.

“I will kill him,” Oasis screamed.

“See,” the prophet wanting an apology but was ignored.

Everyone was glad the staff was off him

Even in rhodium armour the hound was off ....hey is that Ted?

Oneghus was aware of a thundering commotion behind him as a thousand riding hounds, black, brown, grey, white and mixed spotted types pursued him.

Behind them baying stray dogs and excited street urchins.

Not to mention a flying monster in the sky with a green ape on its back and a Bee Bear in a helmet running below the fliers.

And above them seagulls watched hoping that from that heaving mass of humanity dropped sandwiches and chocolate bars would appear.

And the street urchins hoped for the morsels too.

And coming towards Oneghus and the dust cloud behind him, a taxi float and inside it, Hagi and Colonel Wok.

“Grrr,” it was an animal snarl that escaped Oneghus’s throat as he saw these two.

And since the taxi driver didn’t want to get closer to the dust cloud he was only too happy to stop at Oneghus's feet.

Unfortunately the driver hit the brakes hard and they were pretty worn out, thread bare in fact so the float skidded into a pile of trash cans emptying half eaten dinners out.

The seagulls being above noticed before the urchins; the advantage of wings.

And the dust cloud stopped behind Oneghus.

“Joshua here is the traitor, arrest Wok,” Oneghus shouted.

Now Wok tried to tumble from the taxi float with a drawn pistol but Hagi was clutching him in terror as he saw his life pass by because there was a grinning prophet.

And Wok crawled over Hagi into the seat beside the driver.

The driver took one look at the laser and understood its language: a red button was pressed and the rotor blades above the float span into life and the taxi lifted with Hagi dangling out the open passenger door.

“I got two toddlers, please don’t kill me sir,” the taxi driver to Wok as hands below dragged Hagi out and into a mist of descending fists.

And Wok shot the driver through the kidneys and threw his body onto those below hurting many,

And a claw snatched Hagi with these words, “Oneghus say come with him,” and then Zacross flew away.

“Damn my Boss, he’s escaped again,” Wong running to mount a hound and follow Zacross.

The carrion bird flew down after the tax driver

Nice car mmmmmm wouldn't mind one

“That’s Oneghus,” Rattray to Saltmire at the head of the 9th.

Saltmire raised an arm and a thousand bobbing yellow uniforms veered right in a column after Oneghus.

“Is the world gone insane?” Oneghus asked as he now had two dust clouds after him.

On the road to Amarillo or There had to somewhere on the planet where no one lived Oneghus hoped?

And the prophet took advantage of the dust cloud

Mistress Oppo lay across Dr. Yokel's desk. Her white brassiere rumbled up to her neck exposing her firm bosom that Yokel was ogling over.

His eyes were wide, diluted and horrible.

He was shuddering due to the influence of sex drugs.

He had taken too many to impress Oppo but too many had had an undesirable effect before he could well have some with a lady.

The poor dirty old man because luck wasn't with him today.

And a long strand of saliva fell onto Oppo's navel.

Yokel reminded her of that fly. He also reminded her of a very old man. He was but she didn't know it. He was like Icon, a product of his own Zoodynamic Engineering Department.

This was 50000A.D.

And a loud bang announced that his front door was no longer there just as Yokel managed to be a man.

Oppo wasn't having any more of this nonsense and tried shoving Yokel away.

Now Yokel's mind tried to claw its way back to reality but those drugs, he Shuddered and Oppo was disgusted: was there no privacy anymore on this planet? And just then noticed a fly scoot across her ceiling.

Oppo shook her head; there must be an easier way to make a living.

She felt disgusted, this was not sex.

But it was for this was Yokel and his seed was programmed to find an egg.

And she saw Oneghus and disappointment in Yokel turned to anger. The long stocking legs unwrapped from Yokel who thought he was now free to confront Oneghus as Yokel shuddered again and then really leapt into the air as Oppo kneed him good.

Just before Yokel passed out near the ceiling and a passing spider photographed his grim face, he saw three things.

- 1) A tiny figure of Rad in the eyes of Oneghus.
"Rad, brother prince I remember you well." He moaned but to those who heard it sounded as if he was choking on something.
- 2) Wong and those monsters that belonged to Oneghus had entered his room; Oasis being the chief monster.
- 3) Oneghus's eyes were lifeless like a sharks and the scientist to the end he noted these side effects of XY6ABIL.
- 4) The drug XY6ABIL was enraging Oneghus who wanted Oppo, he wanted to show her there was none like him. The drug also made him want to damage

Yokel to make sure the opposition was dead.

It was fortunate for Yokel he was unconscious as he never felt a thing and as he wasn't screaming but moaning it put Oneghus off killing him good, because Oneghus had caught him in his descent and was now throttling him blue and as Yokel was blue skinned it was most difficult to discern who was who such was the blue.

What a lucky man Yokel was and would indeed need the skills of the Zoodynamic Engineering Department.

And a crawling bug on the wall equipped with telescopic lenses snapped it all up for Yokel to view after on replay.

Oh what a lucky man Yokel was to get all this exciting free time with Mistress Oppo.

A man in a shirt in an awkward position

And still goes to bed with a grinning Teddy?

And Oneghus was indeed the Monster of Hesse but the street urchins loved him too much to call him that to the annoyance of Oasis and daddy-in-law.

"No," Cullen trying to stop Oneghus from something he would regret.

"Enough," Wong commanded pulling at an arm to stop the owner being remorseful later.

And Icon took Oneghus's legs in an effort to topple his Boss and stop him spending time suffering for his murderous deed.

After all the man going blue in the face had the antidote!

Now it was Rad in possession of Oneghus that was actually paying back wrongs done to him by Yokel, that was doing the punishment; I mean Oneghus had a heart and seeing Yokel about to perish and pass over made Oneghus stop and crumble to the floor on top of a complaining Icon.

"You see Mistress even Zacross knows Yokel has drugged Lord Oneghus."

"Yes," and a grunt, "even Sun Poon can see that you are more beautiful than her so Oneghus can not be himself."

"I have seen it all from the start," Yaw boasted, "with Icon we have watched this devil Oppo steal Lord Oneghus's spirit and make him be hers because this demon witch doctor man skinny thing here gave her drugs to trap your man, so can we kill Yokel now, my friend Zacross can have the head, Sun Poon his liver and I his heart."

"Bloody tart isn't you?" Oasis accused Oppo who was struggling to pull up her stockings to regain some dignity as she didn't have anything else on.

The men stared at her curvaceous legs in stockings transforming their lips into big rubbery Bull Dog mouths all wet and drooling saliva; and I am sure some even dropped their jaws in hypnotic awe as if they had never seen a woman before.

But they were men and soldiers and knew all about off limits and Madam Loo's!

In this picture Oppo has more than just stockings boy!

Very slowly my mouth transforms into a Bull Dogs mess!

And Oppo threw her head back in defiance and stuck out her chest.

“Nice,” Icon.

“Yes but she is a half plucked chicken looking so stupid like that,” Wong.

“Hey look Yokel is coming too?” Wong and Cullen picked him up and shook him really awake.

It wasn’t a moan but a similar sound that passed Yokel’s lips.

“Well he can toss you to the beasts here if you don’t cough up the antidote for real, understand?” Wong tormented.

“Understand,” Cullen tormented a little further shaking.

Yokel felt his head hitting his skull, but he was Yokel, he had ego and needed bargained with.

“Kill me and you will never get the antidote.”

“Ah what has bitten me?” Hagi screamed behind them.

“Nutcracker, it’s not on your hair?” Insect to Oasis.

“Oh help me that horrid insect has bitten me,” and Hagi fell at the feet of Oneghus.

Now Rad needed twerp Hagi so opened the eyes of Oneghus.

“Only my powers keep you alive Hagi. From now on stop plotting to kill my servant Oneghus and stop abusing the beasts of Oneghus or the whip by itself will whip you to shreds Hagi,” and Rad allowed some of the poison to have effect.

So Hagi convulsed a little and foamed horribly and smelled disgustedly with a loud raspberry; it was horrible and made one want to fast.

“Truly The Deliverer,” Wong and bowed his head in respect but it was short lived respect?

“Understand Hagi?” Even though Oneghus spoke it was really Rad. What had Hagi been eating? Even Rad wanted away to the Heavens.

Windows were opened as Hagi swore he did never bother Oneghus again or the beasts.

And an insect flew off Hagi and landed on Yokel’s chest.

It was sworn Yokel’s lips moved as if he was trying to say something but not a sound was heard; so became legend and the topic of many discussing what the man was saying.

In fact it was “Help.”

And the Nutcracker seemed to be making itself at home and the room quietened as all stared at Nutcracker cleaning its fangs for a clean bite.

Yokel knew he was defeated, the insect was unpredictable and out of control.

“In my fridge, the green one, no food there, you will find a vial with XY6ABIL on it; give it too Oneghus to drink.”

Now Oneghus felt the drug in him and did not want to forget Oppo and attacked Wong for all he could see was Oppo’s nakedness and not in his mind for she was physically not dressed properly to be present in the company of so many men.

Then it could be argued being Oppo she was?

Now the other heroes restrained Oneghus so he could have his medicine and not Oasis's quick hand out sort.

And the Beasts of Oneghus went berserk for it was their duty to defend Oneghus.

Cullen jumped Zacross and Yaw him and Icon him and Sun Poon him and Yokel was terrified he did be squashed flat.

Now Oasis picked up the fallen vial and crawled towards Oneghus.

And the prophet took hold of her legs to prevent her saving The Monster of Hesse.

A window smashed in the melee.

And the prophet yelled out in pain as Hagi beat his legs with a stick.

And Oppo swooned immersed in the fact Oneghus was fighting for her and not that conceited bitch with a football in her stomach.

And had forgotten Oneghus was suffering from XY6ABIL.

Oh no, Oneghus had managed to stand up and all the struggler's like a pyramid balanced on match sticks toppled against Oppo.

There was a horrid ear piercing shriek as she vanished out the broken window.

“Save her Oneghus,” Rad inside a head.

Oneghus didn't need telling, he still had XY6ABIL in him and as he was about to jump after her, Oasis stood up and pored the vial contents into his mouth.

It was strawberry flavour so went down easy.

And someone who never owned up later bumped Oneghus out the window. It was really an accident or was it? It was said the prophet was near him at the time; perhaps senility had crept in and he had forgotten Oneghus could fly at the moment.

And the power of Rad used the natural laws to make wings appear from the back of Oneghus so he flew down to Oppo who seemed to be falling very slowly indeed.

“This was for 2 reasons, she was on an anti-gravity line where Earth scientists say a brick will fall like a feather and why some men bounce away after a tower block drop, and some don’t and the other reason was unseen witnesses were flying Oppo down so she could be caught by Oneghus.

Ah, is called spirit power and the effect was something else.

Some called it blooming miraculous, but was just the fulfillment of natural spirit laws,” a whisper.

Mistress Oppo was still kissing Oneghus’s cheek as the others pushed their way through the crowd.

“He had wings I tell you,” Cullen.

“Silver they were,” Icon.

“What do you expect, he is The Deliverer,” a street urchin whose small size had aided him to get close under peoples legs.

“He hasn’t got wings on him now but might soon have,” Wong trying to get Oasis who had pulled Oppo off and connected a right hook to a jaw.

It was a loud crack and Oppo slid to the feet of Oneghus and Oasis.

“I have control now,” Oneghus to Oasis.

The prophet cursed and asked his God why why why him of all people?

And a shadow passed and Zacross seeing all friends again shouted, “Come fly with me Lord Oneghus?”

And street urchins appeared from nowhere under legs. There were alleys with cardboard boxes as homes, disused wheelie bins as other homes, a derelict house that emptied itself of runaways, but they all gathered about their heroes.

And the heroes responded for they never forgot the urchins and Zacross took many for flights and Yaw let some use him as a furry stuffed toy and even Sun Poon some to hold his bronze spear.

It was happy time, Oasis and Oneghus whom were meant to be together were together again and unseen witnesses smiled with folded arms, satisfied their unseen work had opened the correct doors at last.

And a Zarpod howled, an ape coughed and a bear squealed excitedly.

“What are we coming too?” Wong asked shaking his head.

Postscript: Cernurex

Cernurex had not been fed as Wok was too interested in shaving his own skin. No one knew where she was for the bad man Colonel Wok did not want detection and punishment; even though this was the time of The Beast when such things as he liked was legal.

Legality took the fun out it.

Then a centipede crawled out of a plaster crack.

Was it real or someone's camera?

Cernurex was also craving for Madam Loo's orange juice.

One of Harbo's pickles or?

The centipede was at least company?
